Change in Encapsulation Glaze Material

Riverside, California – August 18, 2025 – Bourns announces that, effective September 27, 2025, the encapsulation glaze material used in PWR220T, PWR221T, PWR163S, PWR263S, 4800, 4400, 4300, and 4100 Series Thick Film Resistors will transition from a lead-bearing glaze to a lead-free encapsulation glaze. A list of affected part numbers is included on the following page.

This change is being implemented due to the End-of-Life (EOL) of the current glaze encapsulant by our supplier. The new lead-free glaze is RoHS compliant and continues to meet all product specifications.

There is no change to the form, fit, function, quality, or reliability of the affected part numbers. The only change is in the encapsulation glaze composition, which is now lead-free, providing a more environmentally friendly and sustainable product. Traceability will be maintained through date code. Samples and qualification reports are available upon request. Bourns recommends that customers test the affected part numbers in their specific applications to verify satisfactory performance.

Implementation dates are as follows:

Last production date of products manufactured with current glaze: September 27, 2025

Date that deliveries of products manufactured with new glaze will begin: October 6, 2025

First date code with new glaze: 2540
