Change Summary	Internal chip replacement
Part Number(s)	LUR32D

Dear Customer,

Anglia has been informed by our supplier, Titan Opto, that the chip used in part number LUR32D has reached end of life.

A replacement chip has been introduced with minor electrical changes, including a difference in wavelength. The package dimensions remain unchanged. For full details, please refer to the current and revised datasheets, which are attached for comparison. This includes images of the change for reference.

Please note that Anglia operates a strict FIFO process within our Distribution Centre. As a result, existing stock may continue to ship for a period before the updated version is supplied under the same part number.

Kindly ensure that the relevant personnel within your organisation are made aware of this change.

Yours Sincerely

Anglia
