Title of change	Power Diode Wide Line_Discontinuation of high-Temperature Measurements
Affected product(s)	Manufacturer part number		Customer part number
	See attached document
Detailed description of change	Before		After
	Perform high temperature measurement		Discontinue high-temperature measurement
Reason for change	In the obsolete hoop line, high-temperature measurements were conducted for quality control. However, in the new wide line, process improvements have made high-temperature measurements unnecessary. It has been confirmed that there are no issues in mass production, and since high-temperature measurements have become a bottleneck in equipment efficiency, they will be discontinued to improve production efficiency.
Anticipated impact on quality	None.
Identification of change	Identifiable by lot number and dot mark
Planned first ship date		September 1, 2026
